The Continued Importance of PPP Appeals

By: Theodora McCormick & Robert Lufrano, Epstein Becker Green

A recent analysis of data released by the United States Small Business Administration (“SBA”) suggests that the vast majority of Paycheck Protection Program (“PPP”) loans extended to small businesses during the COVID-19 pandemic have been forgiven. While positive, this news is cold comfort to PPP borrowers for whom forgiveness was denied, or, as we addressed previously, whose lenders required them to apply for forgiveness in amounts less than the full amount of their PPP loans. PPP borrowers can apply for forgiveness of their PPP loans any time up until the loan maturity date (2025 in many cases), and borrowers continue to receive denials of forgiveness for both first- and second-draw PPP loans. As a result, the PPP appeal process remains as important today as at its inception.

Nuts and Bolts of HR: For Professionals at All Levels

Wednesday, February 15, 2023

9:00 am - 4:00 pm

NIU Center | 1120 E. Diehl Road

Naperville, IL 60563

HR professionals are constantly being inundated with changes to employment laws and regulations. The “Nuts-and-Bolts” of human resources are all the black-and-white, day-to-day duties that HR associates and supervisors deal with on a regular basis that tie into employee management and make up this component of what HR does every day.

Join Scott Cruz, Labor and Employment attorney at Greensfelder, Hemker & Gale, P.C. for this comprehensive seminar that will provide guidance for new and seasoned HR professionals who need to assure they are in compliance with the laws.

This seminar will provide guidance on how to handle situations across the employment law spectrum, including, pre-employment background check requirements, cannabis reasonable suspicion training in the workplace, obligations and requirements for supervisors and managers with respect to anti-sexual harassment and retaliation, conducting effective workplace investigations, compliance with social media and other privacy issues in the workplace, FMLA/ADA leave management, as well as several other potential issues that could arise in the workplace that need immediate attention.
